

LA GIOIA REVIEWS 1988

WINE SPECTATOR

91 pts

A big, burly wine, with lots of fruit and tannins. Has freshly sliced plums, flowers and berries on the nose. Full-bodied, with an excellent concentration of cassis, berry and cherry flavors and a bit of new wood. Very tannic; it needs time to round out. A Sangiovese-based wine. Try in 1994 to '97.
