A serious rosé with peaches and cherries, as well as tea leaves and stems. It's full-bodied with plenty of fruit and freshness. More like a light red. Drink now.

Made with early-harvest Sangiovese, the Riecine 2019 Rosé Palmina reveals a pink-copperish color that immediately evokes the versatile Tuscan grape. Packaged in an elegant bottle with a white wax capsule, the wine is luminous and bright. The bouquet is delicate and fine with sour cherry, bitter almond, peach, citrus and pink grapefruit. There is a floral component as well, with lavender and wild violet. This is a terrific rosé from Tuscany to pair with a shrimp cocktail appetizer.
